It was a great class! Aside from our class and project learnings, I also learned more about group dynamics and how to manage certain challenging situations that I didn't expect to learn (which is great, I think).

I recently had an interview for a Summer Internship position in Labor Relations with PGE Headquarters at the World Trade Center in Portland and was very successful. They were interested in hearing about our capstone class project and viewing previous sample work that I have done in MS Excel.

I thought I'd share my recent interview success with you, where I was able to talk about this project I was going to add on my resume (when completed). Thank you again for your constructive and helpful feedback and guidance throughout this term!
